

Good-bye Cards

Directions: Cards are a great way to show friends you care about them when saying good-bye. Encourage your child to decorate the cards using markers or crayons. Then help her cut out the good-bye cards and give them to her friends before (or after) the move. When writing good-bye cards to friends you trust, include your new address and your e-mail so that it's easy for friends to stay connected to you and your child.

Family Tip: Include a fun fact in the card about the new place you are moving to. Search online or in books for pictures of your new city or country and for information about great places for kids, such as a playground, mini-golf course, or zoo. This will also help you get excited together and start to plan the things you'll get to do!
